Dear Sir,

Thank you for your letter of December 18th.

It is a pity that you did not write me, as soon as you received Bedard's paintings, that you considered the prices too high for the Danish market.

You did not write me when the exposition was decided and you did not even answer the letters I sent you asking about the conditions of that exposition. This at least would have allowed us an exchange of correspondence settling all the details.

I did not even demand a written contract as I trusted you and I am deeply disappointed by your behavior.

I offered you to keep one of Bedard's paintings as a compensation for the amount which you consider estimate I owe you.
Would you please send me to the paintings back as soon as possible

Yours truly
